Pay the most attention to products that have oil and are rubbed into and quickly absorbed by the skin, such as lotion, liquid foundations, antibiotic creams (e.g. Neosporin, diaper rash ointments). Keep in mind that some of the products listed here are chosen more for better health benefits than for weight loss (e.g. Chrystal deodorant).

These products are debatable. Some participants think these are acceptable: others disagree strongly – use sparingly and note on your chart to determine if these slow your weight loss. It is highly advisable to continue to note use of these products through your entire round because you may appear to be losing fine for the first 7 to 10 days and then stall out because of products. Good loss in the first 7 to 10 days is NOT an indicator that these products are not affecting your weight loss.
